

Swarovski crystal

AB

All sculptures of the Swarovski company created by Daniel Swarovski in 1862, are marked with a logo. The original Swarovski logo was an edelweiss but has been replaced with a swan.

To create crystal glass that allows the refraction of light in a rainbow spectrum, Swarovski coats some of its products, Rivoli, Bicone, beads,

pendants and other elements, with special metallic chemical coatings, for example, Aurora Borealis color or "AB", gives the surface a rainbow look.
