

Jewels are like Eve's apple, dangerous stuff. They have a seductive meaning when the woman wears them, they adorn parts of the body to highlight. They have a bonding meaning when they are bequeathed to you or when a man gives them to you: the famous "sentimental value" which,
as they say, that's it what matters, beyond the real value of the object.

(Paola Jacobbi)