

Yellow And Orange

Yellow and orange are the colors
most full of energy and vitality.
They are the choirs of spring but also of autumn.

Goethe said that yellow is the color
that comes closest to the light and color of the sun.

If you give orange flowers you give stimulating and creative emotions, they give courage and
are the invigorating

par excellence. Orange and salmon color also have positive meanings in other cultures.

In Japan and China for example these colors symbolize courage, happiness, love and health.

In Hinduism, however, they represent fire and are considered sacred. And in Buddhism they represent the highest level of human enlightenment and mean transformation and compassion.

From Web

